Four DCA Members Among Food Logistics Magazine 'Top 70 3PLs' Regional Service Providers Enable Food & Beverage Supply Chain Excellence

Food Logistics Magazine, the only publication dedicated to the food supply chain, named four member companies of the Distribution Centers of America (aka Team DCA) in its 'Top 70 3PL providers' list just published. Congratulations to:

- Columbian Logistics Network (www.columbianlogistics.com)
- ODW Logistics (www.odwlogistics.com)
- Port Jersey Logistics (www.portjersey.com), and
- Shippers Warehouse (www.shipperswarehouse.com)

Kathy Doherty, Editor in Chief of Food Logistics, advised that her publication created the list to help its readers find and evaluate 3PL partners, and further asserts that companies earning inclusion “enable food companies to reduce cost, increase flexibility, and improve service levels.” Candidate companies were nominated by both end users and service providers, with submissions culled by the editorial staff and distilled to the 'Top 70' 3PL List, featured in the July/August Food Logistics cover story (full article at: <http://www.foodlogistics.com>).

“We commend the management and operations teams of all four of these regional logistics leaders, for this prestigious recognition of their successful commitment to excellent service for the food and beverage industries,” said Mike Holland, president of TeamDCA.
